CHILDREN'S DAY

In the Department Managers' Sale

That's news for the little tots and big tots—it's good news for everyone, for though we're specializing on children's needs, to an important extent, we're remembering everyone. And women and men, boys and girls will find today to be one of the most important saving days of all the Department Managers' Sale. Every floor and every section is well up to the front. It's the home stretch of the race to see which department manager will win first prize, and every manager is putting forth increased efforts. We're emphasizing Prices Everlastingly the Lowest in a way that's putting last year's sales records far behind—that's winning us scores of new friends and binding old ones closer. And today opportunities are great and many for everyone to save.

New Closing Hours

Starting July 7th and continuing until Sept. 15th, this store will close Saturdays at 12:30 instead of on Thursday afternoons, during July and August, as has been our custom heretofore.

MAY SOON TURN COLORADO RIVER.

FLOW INTO SALTON SINK BASIN IS DECREASING STEADILY.

Engineers Hope to Be Able About July Fifteenth to Divert Waters Into Old Channel to the Gulf of Mexico—Many Workmen Being Assembled for Operations.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. IMPERIAL, June 15.—The steady falling of the water in the Colorado River is reducing the flow into the Salton Basin, and at the same time is bringing near the time, it is believed, when the river can be turned back into its old channel to the Gulf of Mexico. The river is now about three feet lower than when at the height of the flood two weeks ago. At the rate the river is falling the water should reach the twenty-foot level about July 15, or about two weeks ahead of last year. It is believed by the Southern Pacific and California Development Company engineers that at that level the river can be turned through the gate which was put in before the flood reached its height.

Many workmen are being assembled on the ground, and the preparatory work is now progressing well. The work will be commenced on a large scale next week, and it is hoped to have the work of turning the river completed by September 15.

The Famous Sentous Meats

Are Clean, Refrigerated, Germ-Proof Sanitary Meats—100 Per Cent Pure

The Sentous Packing Company at its organization resolved to give the public the healthiest, the best and most carefully dressed meats. We have sustained this reputation. Not a word of scandal has blemished our name; not a finger of scorn has pointed our way. No unhealthy methods or conditions exist. We have spared neither pains nor expense toward building up the most sanitary packing house in the country, and the plant is open any time for public inspection. At recent meeting of Councilmen and members of Board of Health, Dr. Morrison stated in effect that the Sentous Packing Company's plant was in a condition as near perfection as possible.

temporary cessation of hostilities.
BY ROUNDS.
The next round was ragged and poor.
Bill was losing his stroke. The oyster got away from him with ease, the other oysters sitting round the rim chuckling at him.
A pair of fried eggs and a strip of bacon revived him a little. Two or three times he got near enough the oyster to snap at it.
At the end of that round, he had a ham-and-egg sandwich. The next time, he tried craft and diplomacy. He made a motion with his knife as though he were going after one of the oysters on the secluded rim and then with a sudden and vivid sidewise motion scooped up his old enemy on his knife. But he had too much headway and the thing promptly went over board over the other side.
After some mutton chops and coffee,
Bill changed his tactics and tried mass plays. He got all the oysters down in the middle of the plate and went after them like a steam shovel, just making a broad general scoop and allowing it to gather up what it would. He chopped nickle in the plate—and was warned by a passing policeman, but got no oysters.

Some men would have quit in dis-pair; but not Bill. He was from the desert country where men grow strong and with big bulldog jaws. He knew that men had eaten the confounded things and there must be a way to do it.

DOWN AND OUT—FOR BILL.
Men came and went from the tamale stand. The dinner-time crowd gave way to a little group of artists afflicted with the chill mania. They in turn gave way to the people from the theater. The last car went by in the silent streets, and the drunks began dropping in.

Midnight—Worn to a frazzle, soaked with perspiration, but still unconquered, Bill was trying to get his face down to the level of the plate and scoop the oyster in.
At 1 o'clock, the chef reluctantly told Bill he would have to close the stand for the night. Bill protested and stormed. He offered to buy the cursed shop. But they turned him away.

When it trundled off down the street with the white-capped chef pulling at the wagon tongue and the helper wearily shoving from behind, Bill followed it, resentfully, and from a distance muttering imprecations.
Tonight, he may possibly come around to try it again and see what he can do with an oyster when he's sober.

We don't say the suits are $40 quality, but they are $40 worth of shapeliness, fit, clever style and appearance and we also say that $20 never bought so much genuine good merit in men's suits.

The swell "Ready-and-Right" blue serges are among

TEN YOUNG MEN ARE GRADUATED FROM ST. VINCENT'S.

Impressive Exercises Mark Forty-first Annual Commencement of the College—Degrees Are Conferred and Medals Awarded Before Great Gathering.

St. Vincent's College held its forty-first annual commencement exercises last night in Father Meyer Memorial Hall. Ten young men were graduated and the conferring degrees, awarding of diplomas and distribution of the education prizes for the year were witnessed by a large audience.

Thomas A. Mounier was salutatorian and his oration on "Systems of Education" dealt with the methods employed at the Catholic colleges of America for educating the youth. John V. helps delivered an address on "The Catholic College Graduate." August Guercio was valedictorian. He described college life in the halls of St. Vincent's in interesting detail and parted with a farewell to his classmates.

The exercises were more impressive and were attended by a larger audience before in the history of the College.

BISHOP'S WISH REALIZED.

For the first time in the history of the College, students have completed the High School course, which was established when Bishop Conaty first came to the establishment of the school in Los Angeles more than four years ago. Eight lads finished the work and the academic graduates from St. Vincent's received their parchments at the exercises last night.

In addressing the graduates, Bishop Conaty spoke feelingly of his desire to see the establishment of a high school in the college. He declared at his ambition had been to see a High School course taught at the college. His wish has now been realized in a class of bright students, several of whom have won gold medal scholarships.

"We must make plans for the girls as well as for the boys," he stated at the beginning of the exercises. It is understood that the bishop hopes to establish a Catholic High School for girls.

COLLEGE WORK LAUDED.

In opening his address the bishop praised amusement when he said: "I am with the Methodists last night. I am with the Catholics tonight. It is pleasant to have the brethren of other churches here."

He congratulated St. Vincent's College on its ending of a most successful and prosperous year," continued the bishop. One of the chief reasons for the unswerving devotion to all that is true and on the standard of excellence it has maintained in the educational work here is the fulfillment in the High School department of the college. The work of education branches has attained commendable results, and as Catholics we are proud to be proud of what we have accomplished this year.

"We must make plans for the girls in their place in education is just as important as the boys. We must continue to give a high standard of excellence equal to that we already have."

SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

There was an impressive scene as the diplomas and medals were awarded. These awards were made by the faculty and the High School and college graduates. Rev. Father Glass, president of St. Vincent's, read the announcements of the graduations in Latin. Bishop Conaty conferred degrees. Surpluses of gold and white silk were draped on the shoulders of each senior, who knelt while the honor was conferred upon those who received the degree of Bachelor of Science included: Vincent J. Marshall, Thomas A. Mounier, Edward A. McDonald, Edward J. McElroy, Emory J. Conaty, Andrew P. Gratia Bodkin. The degree of Bachelor of Arts was awarded to Justo G. Garcia.

A gold medal was won by Marshall P. Winney. For having secured the highest scholarship in the college. A gold medal was awarded to Raymond E. Lockwood. The "Father of the Year" was awarded to Mr. S. Brennan.

SAY THEY HAVE A CONFESSION.

POLICE CLAIM A CONSPIRACY TO KILL SCHECK.

Widow of Murdered Man and Her Paramour Held as Principals in the Dastardly Crime, Subjected to "Sweating" Process and One of Them Breaks Down and Tells.

Mrs. Arilla Schreck and her paramour, E. G. Stackpole, are still in the City Jail and to all intents and purposes are facing charges of murder. While no papers have been filed against the man and woman charging them with the murder of Schreck, at the proper time these papers will be served.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Schreck and Stackpole were subjected to a severe "sweating" by Capt. Flannery and Deputy District Attorney Fleming, and one of the other broke down and under cross-examination told many facts concerning the murder, enabling the officers to secure evidence which makes them confident of convicting the guilty parties. At police headquarters it is hinted that Stackpole was the one who made the partial confession, though it was thought that Mrs. Schreck would break down first and tell all she knew. It is said, however, that the information was secured from her which made Stackpole weaken and tell a part of the horrible story.

"We became convinced yesterday that Schreck was murdered in cold blood and that the job had been done by others than burglars," said Capt. Flannery last night. "Now our investigation makes us equally sure that the persons we now have in jail and some others are the murderers. The case is a hard one, but we have been making rapid progress and expect to clear it up in good time."

Deputy District Attorney Fleming spent the best part of two days at the case and last night he was as confident as Capt. Flannery that the murders are under arrest and the case is being taken back to give him personal attention," he said. "I feel tonight well satisfied with what we have accomplished. The case is a hard one, but we have been making rapid progress and expect to clear it up in good time."

Yesterday Mrs. Schreck was taken to her former home and required to describe how everything happened at the time of the murder. When she entered the house she became hysterical and could not tell her story as clearly as she had done on previous occasions. When she was taken back to the Central Police Station she was still weeping in a half hysterical way.

The police are now convinced that Mrs. Schreck and Stackpole deliberately planned the murder of Schreck in order to get his life insurance of $50,000 and then marry. The officers say the plot to murder Schreck was carefully laid, but that something miscarried.

The theory which is now accepted by those who are investigating the case is that at the appointed time Stackpole signaled that he was ready to go. Mrs. Schreck, they believe, had been waiting for hours for the signal and immediately opened the back door to her lover.

Some believe that she remained in the back room while Stackpole did the shooting; others are of the opinion that she was present when her husband was murdered, and possibly was in bed at the time. The first shot did not instantly kill Schreck and he sat up in bed with his eyes open and the revolver was immediately pressed close to his forehead and the second shot fired.

Then, and not until then, it is believed, the horror of the deed penetrated the sluggish mind and nature of Mrs. Schreck and seeing her husband murdered, whether she lay beside him or rushed in from the next room, she became hysterical. She stuck to her story about the burglary until yesterday, however, with more cleverness than would be expected in one of her disposition.

One of her first requests when she was arrested was to have the Fraternal Brotherhood notified that Schreck had died so that she could get the money on his policy.

While it is said at police headquarters that blood-stained clothing belonging to Schreck has been found in Stackpole's room at the Hotel City, Mrs. Emma Harkness, mother of Mrs. Schreck, at No. 513 South Los Angeles street, is denied at the house. In fact, the relatives of the accused deny everything and refuse to make any statements regarding the case. The revolver with which the murder was committed has not been discovered and it is believed Stackpole hid the weapon where it may never be found.

Despite the fact that the police, working in connection with the District Attorney's office are convinced that Mrs. Schreck and Stackpole are the guilty parties and one of them has confessed to the crime, Capt. Flannery says he is not yet ready to make a statement regarding the details of the case. He says the prisoners are the murderers and that he will make public their statements and the evidence secured by the police as soon as the case is ripe.

POPE LIKELY TO MOVE.
ROME, June 15.—A rumor again is circulating that the Pope intends to leave the Vatican and go to the papal villa at Castel Gandolfo on the Tiber. The moderate section of the Catholic press seems to be preparing the ground for the change by explaining that if the Pope breaks up his voluntary captivity in the Vatican this would not alter the relations between the church and the Quirinal as the change will be from the Vatican to the Papal Villa of Castel Gandolfo, which, like the Vatican, enjoys extra territorial rights.

NEW LEADVILLE GOLD STRIKE.
LEADVILLE (Colo.) June 15.—Rich gold ore has been found in a new lead mine in the town of Leadville, Colo. The discovery was made several days ago, but the miners kept it a secret until they had made all the locations they wanted. Great excitement has been caused by the discovery and many miners have gone to the new field.

HANDBALL PLAYERS REST.

Friday Given Over to Double Teams Who Play Rattling Good Game to a Marginal Score.

Yesterday was a day of rest for the handball players at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and with the exception of a double exhibition game between Hall and Whalen on one side and Loomis and Mitchell on the other, there was nothing doing. The double game was a strenuous one for the participants, and Hall and Whalen were finally compelled to succumb to the skill and endurance of Loomis and Mitchell, the score resulting 21 to 19. Play will be resumed today, when some of the leaders will have to tackle some hard nuts. As yet, the team has not weeded out the hard ones, and there is a problem in the outcome of the tournament. Garbutt has played all but three of his twenty-three games, and these can make but little difference in his standing. Gus Hill has also almost run the gauntlet of the tournament, having but four games to play. Welcome must play eleven games, some of which include hard propositions. Loomis, the second man in the tournament, must play fifteen, and Whalen, who runs third, has fourteen to go.

Amestoy, who was a strong factor in the tournament, will not compete further owing to a torn inner band, thus donating nineteen games to the remaining players. The corrected score of the games thus far played is as follows:

Name	Played	Won	Lost
Dick	Wellcome	12	12
W. H. Loomis	10	10	10

WOMAN MISSING.

William P. Bipes reported to his wife, May Bipes, that he had disappeared from the home of her mother, No. 3614 East Sixth street. The woman has been employed in a local laundry while her husband worked as a laborer in Monrovia. Thursday the woman appeared at her place of employment and, after drawing the money due her, stated that she intended to go to her husband in Monrovia. She failed to appear there, however, and her husband, after making a diligent search for some trace of his wife's whereabouts, turned the matter over to the police.

All of the companies writing plate-glass insurance were represented at the meeting. The new organization will be known as the Plate Glass Underwriters' Association and will have the same officers as were elected at the last annual meeting of the commission.

ALEGRIA WOMAN FOUND.

Mrs. Marie Alegria, who disappeared from her home at No. 415 Lake avenue six weeks ago, and William Ward, were arrested Thursday night and now occupy cells in the City Jail. The woman left her home one afternoon and was not seen or heard of again. Her husband and former friends began their search for her when they learned she had been murdered, but private detectives found her living with Ward in a West Eighth-street rooming-house. She fears her husband will kill her when he learns the truth.

Seeks Lost Children.

George W. Grumbles of No. 1506 Lafayette avenue, St. Louis, is seeking his three children, who are supposed to have been in San Francisco at the time of the big fire. He has heard that they are in some institution in Southern California. Grumbles about the Los Angeles institutions have failed to discover them. The children are George, aged 8, and Maggie and Lillian, aged 5 and 12.

Motorman Run Down.

William J. Roark, a motorman on the Los Angeles Inter-urban lines, was run down by a buggy yesterday while walking across the intersection of Spring and Fourth streets carrying his baby girl in his arms. The child spied her mother in a window and cried out to her. Roark stopped for a moment to see what the trouble was, and was hit by a passing buggy and knocked down. His suitcase, containing the baby, was run over and the baby escaped unhurt.

A. D. Warner, counsel for a number of the local defendants charged in the Oregon land fraud case, made a statement yesterday, giving an emphatic denial to the reports sent out from Portland to the effect that the defendants might resist going to Portland for trial. Attorney Warner stated that not only his clients, but all of the defendants in this city will willingly go to Oregon for the opportunity to prove their innocence of the charges. The indictments sent here are faulty, he said, and the defendants will insist that before further action is taken there must be competent evidence to show that an offense was committed.

Little Gardeners Rewarded in Garden Contest.

Outdoor Art Section's Work Among Children.

Unightly Yards Are Transformed Into Beauty.

Little tillers of the soil who have done wonders in their humble way in the making of the city beautiful, gathered last evening at Bethlehem Institutional Church on Vines street to participate in the receipt of prizes distributed through the Outdoor Art Section of the Civic Association. They took part as well in the presentation of an excellent program of juvenile singing and recitations.

The affair was a remarkable demonstration of the good that is being done throughout the city in the inculcation of a love for the beautiful among the young, and especially among the young of sections of the city most in need of light and color and beauty.

Pupils of the Utah-street public school carried off most of the honors for work they have done in the last few months in home and school gardens, while Amelia-street, Norwood-street and others came in for a fair share of commendation.

Of all the prize-winners, the one who created the most enthusiasm in the large assemblage of little ones and their seniors was Mrs. T. Martin of Rio street, second prize, $3.00. She has a wonderful garden, a small woman, who, in addition to caring for a family of eight children, found time to cultivate a vegetable garden that carried off the banner in the form of a cash prize of $5.00 for which there were many contestants.

Then there were two slips of boys from the Utah-street school who made a remarkable record in the care of a SHORT LIFE'S LONG JOURNEY.

"Little Evangelist" Is Now in Peaceful Sleep.

Though but Five Years Old She Was Well Loved.

Mary Mathilda Graves's Body to Lie in State.

"Little Evangelist" is dead. After a short illness, Mary Mathilda Graves, who has actually led by the hand hundreds of world-worn and weary men and women to repentance, is promoted to a higher sphere.

With her father, Rev. Dr. A. P. Graves, the little five-year-old girl traveled over 15,000 miles in their work of bringing rest to the sin-laden, peace to those whom they led in truth to believe.

Tomorrow afternoon in the First Baptist Church, a body of the sweet little girl, who was known from coast to coast, will lie in state from 1 until 3 o'clock.

The "Little Evangelist" passed away last Saturday, after a short illness, with cerebral meningitis, she was sick nineteen days and for the last week was unconscious.

During the illness of this little girl a tribute was paid to her personality for which many a great man has longed in vain.

When she was seized with illness the word passed to her legion of friends and on the Sunday prior to her death, in four churches special prayers were offered up for her health and her name was mentioned solemnly through these houses of worship.

PRAYED FOR HER.

In the First Baptist Church Dr. Northrop asked that the little five-year-old girl regain her health; in the Temple Baptist Church Dr. Burdette offered up a similar prayer; in the extended her ministrations to the sick and weary.

Her father was always accompanied by his gentle little daughter, and in every State in the Union Mary Mathilda Graves and her aged father are known and revered for the good deeds they have wrought.

The little girl would stand by the side of her father and when his pleading for the salvation of the souls of the needy reached its climax she would quietly slip down among the congregation and with her sweet childish voice urge some wavering man or woman to take the initial step. She would slip her tiny hand into the grown-up's big palm and gently lead them to the front of the church.

So great was her childish influence and so often was she called upon to help in this manner that her fame, although she was less than 5 years of age, spread, and there is not a city of any size that does not know Mary Mathilda Graves.

IN SWEET MEMORY.

Thus, when she was stricken suddenly, from all sides telegrams and letters of condolence and wishes for her speedy recovery poured into the residence of the father, No. 1021 South Grand avenue.

The changes in her condition were noticed and anxiously waited for in many cities other than Los Angeles, and when last Saturday night the end came the little child's death was known in a hundred large cities.

Arrangements for the funeral of the child evangelist have been completed. It will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. So many friends have desired to send flowers in sweet memory of the little child's work that it has become necessary to set apart the hours between 1 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when flowers can be laid on the casket.

The Rev. Dr. Northrop will preach the funeral sermon. Dr. Burdette will follow with a short talk on the good work of the little evangelist, and Rev. R. A. Henck will conclude with prayer.

The "Bakers," the aged blind musician-evangelists, will sing. Interment will be in Rosedale Cemetery.

DANGEROUS COAST.

Not the Kind With Lighthouses, but Down Hill and Three Children Had Narrow Escape.

Otto Winter, with his baby sister and brother had a narrow escape from serious injury, or even death, yesterday afternoon on First street. Otto is 11 years old, Melinda 4 and the baby, Carl, one. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winter, No. 506 Commercial street, and had been sent to the public library to change a book.

Otto had taken the two smaller children in his toy express wagon. The journey to the library had been safely made, the book changed and the homeward journey taken up. When Otto reached the corner of First and Hill streets and saw the fine paved hill to coast down to Broadway he could not resist the temptation to try it.

In he climbed with the other two and down the hill the little wagon sped. Half way down he lost control of the vehicle but managed to keep it from tipping over until the bottom of the hill was reached. Street cars were turning the corner at First and Broadway and it seemed that the wagon would run right under the wheels of the heavy coaches and the children be ground to death.

But just before the toy wagon reached the corner the car of the Southern Pacific was turned over and threw the children out. All were bruised and scratched, but when the police surgeons made their examination no broken bones or serious injuries were found and the children were turned over to their parents for their thrilling experience.

WILL EXTEND ITS AIR LINE.

Work on Elevated Railway Will Soon Begin.

Huntington Lines Seek Less Crowded Outlets.

Propose to Build All Cars in This Vicinity.

Within the year the Pacific Electric Railway will be running all the cars on its south lines and to the beaches entirely on its own private right of way.

Agents, who are identified as representing the Huntington interests, are just about to conclude the purchase of several pieces of property which will complete the private right-of-way link from the rear of the Main-street depot to the present terminus of the Pacific Electric right of way at Ninth and Tennessee streets.

It is reported that work on the necessary structure to carry a double-track elevated line through the city from Sixth and Main to Ninth and Tennessee streets will begin within a few weeks.

But the management and operating department of the Pacific Electric is harder pressed to find an outlet for the north lines to Pasadena, Monrovia, Alhambra and intermediate points, and it is in this direction that a skirmish line of inquiry is being sent abroad to discover, if possible, some outlet by which the big cars of the north divisions can be taken off the crowded streets through which they now pass and be sent over, either an elevated way to a junction point with the private right of way on the east bank of the Los Angeles River, or through less frequented thoroughfares.

HARD TO KEEP UP.

During the past year electric railway traffic generally in and about Los Angeles has increased with a rapidity which has defied the railway lines in keeping pace with it.

As it is, every available car is now pressed into service for Sunday travel, and operating officials of the several roads are frank in admitting that they have not the equipment necessary for the proper handling of the great crowds which travel on holidays.

All of the roads have put in rush orders for new equipment. Mr. Huntington during his recent trip to the East left an order in St. Louis for fifty new cars of the same type as now in service on his Pacific Electric lines. They will be delivered at an early date. In addition to this passenger equipment, he ordered five big new freight locomotives which are also much needed by the construction department.

At the same time the Pacific Electric Railway Company is turning out new cars daily from its local shops in an effort to provide an adequate equipment for the insistent demand of the traveling public.

These locally built cars have proven so satisfactory all around, and have been constructed at such a saving in cost over the imported cars, to say nothing of the very important item of freight, which is almost prohibitive on electric cars, that there is no doubt the Pacific Electric will come in time to build all of its cars in Los Angeles.

As a matter of fact, both the Los Angeles and Redondo and the Los Angeles-Pacific Railways have been practically building their own cars from the ground up for some time past.

But as badly off as are the local lines for surplus equipment, they have considerably the advantage of the United Railways of San Francisco, according to William von Puol, of that system, who is in the city.

Mr. von Puol's self-saved mission in Los Angeles is to beg, borrow or steal a lot of work motors for construction on the San Francisco roads. Mr. von Puol spent yesterday in the general offices and shops of the Pacific Electric, conferring with the officials in an endeavor to secure something in the way of extra equipment to help out in the great emergency in the northern city.

Mr. E. Huntington left last night over the Southern Pacific with E. Randolph in his private car for San Francisco. Both Mr. Huntington and Mr. Randolph considered that it is merely a pleasure trip, but it will not be surprising if they accidentally allow a little business to creep in, especially if they should encounter William F. Herrin, chief counsel of the Harriman lines in the northern city.
